1

Nairobi → Maasai Mara | Into the Wild

Distance: Approximately 250–280 km Driving Time: Approximately 5–6 hours, depending on route and stops

Your Maasai Mara adventure begins with an early morning departure from Nairobi. Leave the city behind and travel through Kenya's spectacular Great Rift Valley, with an opportunity to stop at a scenic viewpoint overlooking the dramatic escarpment. Continue towards the Maasai Mara, passing through rural landscapes and Maasai communities before arriving in the Mara region. After lunch at your lodge or camp, head out for your first afternoon game drive. This is your first opportunity to encounter the Mara's extraordinary wildlife. Keep your eyes open for elephants, buffalo, giraffes, zebras, wildebeest, gazelles, hyenas and, with some luck, the reserve's famous big cats. As afternoon turns into evening, the golden African light transforms the savannah into a spectacular photographic landscape. Return to camp for dinner and your first night under the Mara skies.

Maasai Mara | A Full Day in the Wilderness

Wake early to the sounds of the African bush and prepare for a full day exploring the Maasai Mara. After breakfast, depart with a packed picnic lunch for an extended full-day game drive. Your guide will tailor the route according to recent wildlife sightings, seasonal conditions and your interests. The Mara's open grasslands offer excellent opportunities to encounter large herds of plains game alongside their predators. Lions are particularly prominent, while cheetahs and leopards may be encountered in different habitats across the reserve. Explore the Mara plains, riverine areas and wildlife-rich sections of the reserve while searching for: Lion · Leopard · Cheetah · Elephant · Buffalo · Rhino · Giraffe · Zebra · Wildebeest · Hippo · Crocodile · Hyena · Gazelle · Topi · Eland During the migration season, the experience can become even more dramatic as large concentrations of wildebeest and zebra gather in the Mara ecosystem. The migration typically reaches the Mara between July and October, although exact timing varies annually with rainfall and ecological conditions. Enjoy a picnic lunch in a designated area before continuing your wildlife exploration. Later in the afternoon, begin your return towards camp, stopping for wildlife viewing along the way. Arrive back at camp in time to relax, enjoy dinner and reflect on an unforgettable day in the wilderness. Optional Experiences Hot-Air Balloon Safari For an additional cost, begin the morning with a dawn balloon flight over the Mara. Flights typically last around one hour depending on wind conditions and are followed by a bush breakfast. Maasai Cultural Experience Visit a Maasai community to learn about traditional lifestyles, cultural practices, crafts and the relationship between the Maasai people and the surrounding ecosystem.
